Choosing a school where your child can truly thrive is one of the most important parental decisions you'll ever make. Whether your little one is just starting in kindergarten, where they lay the foundation for future learning, or entering the middle school years, where they discover their passions and hone life skills, the choice of the right learning environment matters immensely.

We're excited to introduce your family to our close-knit community here at Hampden Christian School. Whether you have a preschooler or a pre-teen, your child will find an environment where they'll get the personalized attention and nurturing support they need to become a child of character and wisdom.

At Hampden Christian, we take a whole-child approach. Our students become very proficient in reading, math, and writing, and they develop character, learn Christian values, and grow in their social and emotional well-being. We're here to help your child unlock their unique talents, make good decisions, and become self-controlled, trustworthy community builders.

We invite you to see for yourself why families choose Hampden Christian School.
